

If you yearn for connection with the Holy...

*If you desire justice for all people,
on a thriving earth...*

If you find sacred connection outdoors...

If you recognize beauty and mystery in the people around you...

If you seek healing for your own life and for the world...

If you care about intersecting forms of oppression in the world...

*If you love music & silence, sunlight &
candlelight, busy movement & still prayer, children's energy & wise elders...*

If you are not sure what you seek but want something deeper...

Gather with others for

Eco-Justice Worship

Saturday, January 21st, 5pm

back building, Crescent Hill Presbyterian Church

142 Crescent Ave.

We will gather as a community of Christians from all backgrounds, as seekers of global justice, as lovers of the world, and/or as advocates for earth's healing. Whoever you are, come. Wherever you are, come. Let us join together to praise and move, sing and act, think and become!

For questions or information, please contact Rebecca at r_barnesdavies@yahoo.com or see ecojusticeworship.wordpress.com.